Project description	The DELFINES CUPICA Conservation Project seeks the conservation of the forests located in recognition of the Afro-Colombian communities grouped in the two Community Councils that integrate and propose this project. The specific objectives of the DELFINES CUPICA REDD+ Conservation Project are: to mitigate the effects caused by climate change through the implementation of measures for the reduction and capturing of CO2 emissions, by avoiding deforestation and promoting the restoration of degraded forest territories. To promote the sustainable management of the forests located in the area of influence of the project by forest custodians, by encouraging productive activities well-suited with the reduction of emissions generated by deforestation. To cooperate in the conservation of biodiversity by protecting the ecological connectivity and habitat of those species that are included in a threatened category and those that represent an ecological interest due to their capacity to adapt to climate change, such as sea turtles and mangroves. To contribute to gender equity education by increasing the capacity for leadership, participation, empowerment and entrepreneurship of women within the Community Councils.
Location	The area covered by the project is 113,025 hectares and is located in the properties of the collective territories awarded to the Consejos Comunitarios General Costa Pacífica Norte del Chocó "Los Delfines" y de Cupica.
Project participants	The project proponents are the General Community Council of the Northern Pacific Coast of Chocó "Los Delfines" and the Cupica Community Council, who granted the structuring company BIOFIX CONSULTORÍA S.A.S., the management of the project document design, as well as the exclusivity for the issuance and marketing of carbon credits generated in the territory. The project has had as institutional allies the Corporación Autónoma Regional para el Desarrollo Sostenible del Chocó - CODECHOCO (where the REDD+ project is registered in the Ventanilla de Emprendimientos Verdes) and the Instituto de Investigaciones Ambientales del Pacífico - IIAP.
